

Women's Work – A week-long crash course

Choose a research topic below of your choice:
(Maximum 2 students per topic)

You will spend the rest of class and the next two days getting a basic overview of this person's historical significance. What kind of women's work did this person contribute? What important information should we know about the historical context of when they lived and worked?

Sojourner Truth
Phyllis Wheatley
Emma Goldman
Yolanda Bonhomme
Rosa May Billingham
Ida B. Wells
Mary Seacole
Lizelia Augusta Jenkins Moorer
The Grolier Club

End Goal: an attractive, one-page study guide that includes

- a photo
- figure's contribution
- important historical context
- 3 reputable sources in the works cited

Your guide will be posted online by Sunday evening for all your classmates to learn from in preparation for next week's trip.
